Livestock Experts Agree Price Slump Not Just Seasonal

Market Glutted With Many Cattle and Hogs; Meat on Hoof Not Gold It Used to Be

By WILLIAM FERRIS
Chicago, Jan. 21 (AP)—Meat on-the-hoof isn't the four-legged gold it used to be.
Prices of both hogs and cattle are far down from the record highs made last year. And livestock experts agreed today that the slump in the past few weeks has been much more than just "seasonal."
Take hogs, for example. For a time last year hogs were the "black gold" of the mid-west, bringing fabulous prices. Hogs at Chicago hit a top of $31.85 a hundred pounds last August. Yesterday the best price was $21.50.
The same story applies to cattle. Average cost of slaughter steers at Chicago this week was estimated by Agriculture Department experts at $23.75 a hundred pounds. That compared with an all time high last July of $36.85.
What's behind the price drop?
Mark Pickell, secretary of the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders Association, said, "There are just too darn many of the critters coming to market." He said he thought it would take from 30 to 60 days to "clean up" the present market glut.
Pickell predicted the current price decline several months ago, when he made the flat statement "meat prices are coming down." He admitted today the drop in livestock prices was "more than I expected; I made a good forecast, but not enough of it."
In hogs, Pickell said one factor was the sharp break in land prices. Land is now selling below the former record.

Hotel Reports '48 Profit of $30,000

Governor Clinton Served 69,174 in Rooms and 125,000 at Meals

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Kingston Community Hotel Corporation, operators of the Governor Clinton Hotel, held Thursday evening, directors for the ensuing year were elected and a report of the operation of the hotel was made by its officers and Manager B. R. Gross.
The Governor Clinton Hotel which was built by local people as a community enterprise, during the past year has operated most successfully and Manager Gross reported the average occupancy of the hotel during the past year was more than 83 per cent with 69,174 people being accommodated in rooms and there were over 125,000 meals served. Replacements and improvements have been made and the corporation closed the year with a profit of more than $30,000. During the year, reports showed, the mortgage debt was reduced considerably and that debt is now under $100,000. Interest on the outstanding bonds was paid and a three per cent dividend was voted on cumulative preferred stock last month.
That the corporation is a community enterprise of some merit to the community is shown by the total business transacted during the year, a turn over $440,000 of which over $150,000 was paid out in wages and help benefits. The total operating expenses were more than $325,000 exclusive of fixed charges.

Move May Speed Peace Talks With Reds; Status Uncertain

Nanking, Jan. 21 (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek handed over the reins of government today to Vice President Li Tsung-jen and flew south ostensibly to rest.
His final intentions were not clear amid a welter of rumors and statements—some official, some unofficial—that he was retiring as president.
Chiang himself was to issue a statement later, probably tonight. An official announcement said he would visit his native place at Fenghua in Chekiang Province. The $500,000 four-engine plane in which he had been expected to flee remained at the field.
The official announcement gave no reason for Chiang's departure but said in accordance with the constitution Li Tsung-jen will act for the president during his absence.
Chiang and Madame Chiang, who is now in the United States, usually pay a visit to his native home just before the Chinese New Year (Jan. 29). This gives Chiang an opportunity to leave Nanking without making a clear break, which many factions are seeking as a prelude to peace with the Reds.
Official sources said they were certain his departure was intended as a move to permit the peace group to seek a negotiated settlement of the civil war under the leadership of Li.
No word came immediately from Li himself. It was learned reliably he agreed to take over the presidential duties only after receiving assurances that the official seal and other implements of authority would be given to him.
Chiang left behind a statement which one official source said contained no direct reference to his retirement but said he was leaving Nanking because he needed a rest after many strenuous months of work.
Stop Toward Peace
Whatever the purposes of Chiang's departure, it is an important step toward peace for China. Many officials, including some high military leaders, have hesitated to campaign actively for end of hostilities and a negotiated conclusion of the Chiang's anger. With the president out of the way, even temporarily, it is believed here those who are campaigning for a settlement of the war will find little opposition from the "bitter-enders" who have advocated a fight to the end.
There was no immediate indication what steps would be forthcoming as a result of Chiang's departure.
One official, asked to clarify Li's status, said:
"Frankly we do not know—it Continued on Page Twelve

Fruit Growers Will Hear About Producing, Selling

Eastern New York fruit growers will get a chance to hear what is new in producing and selling fruit next week.
The annual eastern meeting of the New York State Horticultural Society will be held at the New York State Armory in Kingston on January 26, 27 and 28.
The technical side of fruit growing will be discussed at the opening session on Wednesday with talks on new fungicides and disease control programs. Prof. James M. Hamilton of Geneva, W. D. Mills and A. B. Burrell, Cornell plant pathologists, D. H. Palminter of Poughkeepsie and Prof. Henry W. Thurston, Jr., State College, Pa.
Selling will highlight the afternoon program. Representatives from the Michigan State Apple Commission and the New York and New England Apple Institute will speak. A panel headed by Prof. Lloyd Slater of Cornell will discuss Selling the Crop. Part of the session will be based on the results of apples purchased in the Kingston and Poughkeepsie areas.
A grower forum on improving the fruit industry in the Hudson is scheduled for Wednesday evening.
On Thursday Prof. M. B. Hoffman from Cornell will speak on his study of fruit growing in the Northwest and Dr. A. J. Heinicke of Geneva will head a forum on getting back and keeping flavor and quality in fruit. Talks on labor and spraying and the annual valley business meeting are also scheduled.
George A. Bowie of the Firestone Rubber Company will be the Continued on Page Thirteen

Chief Recommends 11 More Patrolmen In Yearly Report

Various Traffic Lights Are Suggested as Pedestrian Aid; Asks Auto

Appointment of more patrolmen to bring the local police force to 50, was recommended by Chief of Police Raymond VanBuren in his annual report to the Board of Police Commissioners last night.
The increase on the force, the chief said, "would provide adequate police protection for the City of Kingston, at the present time."
Recommendations intended to improve traffic conditions in the city were also made by the chief. These included the proposed designation of Green street, as a one-way street between Crown and North Front streets; that Fair street be one-way from North Front to Main street. Passage on Green street would be northerly and on Fair street southerly.
The report suggested no parking on the north side of Pearl street between Clinton avenue and Green street, none on the west side of Green street between Main and Pearl streets and on the east side of Wall street between Pearl Continued on Page Three

President Is at Work Early After Busy Inaugural Day

Freakish Weather Hits Most of Globe

London, Jan. 21 (AP)—Freakish winter weather has brought hardship to many parts of the earth and unprecedented mildness to others.
Meteorologists said seldom has a winter been so spotty—or, in the southern hemisphere, a summer so sizzling hot.
Extremes of temperature were reported from many regions of North America, where southern California had rare snow; the Midwest had blizzards of unusual violence and the East experienced almost springlike warmth.
In Russia, where bitter cold is traditional and expected, inhabitants of some sections had not yet changed to the woolly Russian undergarments. Some Russian rivers which in normal winters are excellent highways for sleighs and motor traffic were not frozen.
Blockaded Berlin, short of fuel has so far experienced one of the mildest winters in years. The temperature climbed to 50 degrees Fahrenheit last Tuesday.
Southern Germany also was warm. Vacationists in Bavaria had been waiting a week for snow, and today skiing was impossible below an altitude of 5,000 feet. The temperature Continued on Page Three

Police Board Appoints Stickle as Patrolman

The Board of Police Commissioners last night approved the temporary appointment of Clarence C. Stickle of Boulder Avenue as a patrolman.
The appointment fills a vacancy on the department following the leave of absence granted to Detective Wesley Carner, who has applied for retirement. Carner's place is being temporarily filled by William A. Krum.
A veteran of World War 2, Stickle had served as a special patrolman about two years ago and has been on the civil service eligible list for some time. He had recently been working with his father who is a contractor.

Boundary Lines Are Hot Issue

Rhodes, Jan. 21 (AP)—Israel and Egypt have become snagged on the thorny question of determining Negev boundaries in their armistice talks.
A United Nations spokesman said both sides were in disagreement over important points concerning boundaries to be observed in southern Palestine. He added, however, that they were in accord on a number of other points in the boundary matter.
In Tel Aviv Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok told the State Council yesterday that Israel and Lebanon were negotiating but had not yet reached the decisive stage of straight armistice talks.
Shertok added that Israel and Trans-Jordan were in communication, but no official armistice negotiations have started.
Details of the Israeli-Egyptian talks were still under black-out. Dr. Ralph Bunche, the acting United Nations mediator, saw both delegations twice yesterday.
The U.N. spokesman said that once the complex boundary question is threshed out, the issue of withdrawing and reducing forces would be solved easily.
There was no indication when the next joint meeting will be held. Unofficially it is known that the ending of the next meeting will indicate armistice terms have been reached.
The spokesman pointed out that while present talks will be restricted to Egyptian-Israeli disputes any other Arab state is free to come here and negotiate an armistice under Bunche.
Meanwhile Bunche flatly denied press reports quoting British Air Minister Arthur Henderson as saying British planes were sent over the Egyptian frontier at the mediator's request.
Bunche declared he had no knowledge of the flight, in which five R.A.F. planes were shot down by the Israelis.

Newburgh's Plan On Cops' Sick Pay, Leave, Hit by PBA

Peter Keresman, former local police officer, and for more than 15 years, secretary of the New York State Police Conference, at a meeting this week, told the Newburgh Patrolmen's Benevolent Association he was strongly opposed to City Manager William J. McIntyre's proposal regulating police sick leave and a municipal plan to annually review city employees' wages and schedules.
Keresman's plea, says The Newburgh News, that the proposals would "create a political police force," would "demoralize the department" and "kill police incentive in their service to the people" brought forth a storm of approval from 30 members of the Continued on Page Three

New York Bar Is Seeking Liberalized Divorce Measure

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 21 (AP)—The New York City Bar Association is pressing its drive for enactment by the Legislature of a liberalized state divorce law.
The organization carried its campaign into the office of legislative leaders yesterday when two of its representatives conferred with Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck.
Barrent Ten Eyck of New York, chairman of a special association committee studying the state's strict law, and Executive Secretary Paul E. DeWitt told newsmen later they had found Heck "responsive" to their recommendations.
They said, however, that Heck thought extensive public hearings should be held on any proposed legislation.
The two lawyers admitted they were having difficulty finding a

Moore Is Named To Find Quarters For Those in Area

State Public Works Superintendent Bertram D. Tallamy Says Work Will Begin as Soon as Possible; Requests Public to Get Behind Moore

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, of this city, announced today another important step toward the elimination of the Broadway railroad crossing, Kingston's No. 1 safety and traffic problem.
Wicks, who is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said a conference was held in Albany Wednesday with Bertram D. Tallamy, State Superintendent of Public Works.
At the meeting, Senator Wicks said, it was decided to advertise for bids for the elimination project as soon as it has been assured that approximately 75 tenants occupying living quarters in the buildings to be demolished have found suitable places in which to move. Included among the tenants are owners of the properties.
Moore to Help Tenants
In order to speed the removal of persons from the crossing area Superintendent Tallamy today designated George W. Moore, president of the Kingston Real Estate Board, as his personal agent to assist tenants to find new quarters.
Notice has been given that the deadline is April 1.
Community Venture
"Moore's work in this phase of the project," Tallamy said, "is in a big sense a community venture. If Kingstonians will work with Moore, his task will be simplified and speeded up, and we will be able to proceed more quickly. Each citizen can help, and if any know of suitable living quarters, a telephone call or letter to Mr. Moore would be appreciated. As soon as these quarters are found, we are prepared to proceed."
No Cost to Tenants
Moore's services, Tallamy indicated, will be of no cost to the tenants to be moved. In addition, Moore will offer the same cost-free survey service to business firms which will have to move.
Moore told The Freeman he probably would begin work this afternoon upon the receipt of information from Tallamy's office.
The elimination of the Broadway crossing will be effected under Plan E modified, which was developed during the administration of former Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman. It was approved by the Public Service Commission and the State Department of Public Works in November, 1941. However, work was made impossible on the project by shortages of steel and manpower which existed during and after World War 2.
Briefly, the plan for the elimination of the crossing calls for the removal of buildings in a restricted area on each side of the crossing. Broadway would be depressed at approximately a six per cent grade.
May Return to Land
Under the plan to be followed present property owners, upon completion of the project, may return to their land for the purpose of rehabilitation of the area.
Prior to the war former Mayor Heiselman held conferences with property owners and Kingston architects and a rebuilding program was discussed. The purpose of the talks was to point out to the owners the possibility of erecting buildings which would have an architectural unity.
Such a plan, Heiselman said, would serve to make central Broadway a most desirable shopping area.
Part of the program, also, Continued on Page Nine

Acheson Is Sworn To Secretary's Post In Truman Office

Chief Justice Fred Vinson Administers Oath; Officials Are Present

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—Dean Acheson was sworn in as secretary of state at 11:13 a. m. today in President Truman's office.
The ceremony set Acheson officially to the task of translating into action the broad anti-Communist foreign policy which President Truman announced in the first minutes of his elected term in the White House.
The oath was administered by Chief Justice Fred Vinson who stood with Acheson in front of President Truman's desk. Mr. Truman stood behind.
The President then walked around the big desk and shook hands with the mustached, graying lawyer whom he chose to operate his four-front anti-Communist policy.
The ceremony was brief but Mr. Truman's oval office was packed with a crowd of government officials, Congressional leaders, their wives and friends of Acheson. The group gave a distinctly bi-partisan flavor to Acheson's induction—something that might be important when he goes to Congress for backing for the President's program.
Shortly before the White House ceremony, Mr. Truman was reported to have put in a word of his own at the capitol for his worldwide plans.
He attended an early-morning Continued on Page Three street and Malden Lane. It is also suggested no parking on the southerly side of Cornell street between Broadway and the railroad crossing.

A traffic light was suggested for Wurts and West Pierpont streets during school hours, one at Albany avenue, Broadway and Malden Lane "to work simultaneously with the lights on Broadway and St. James street," and Clinton and Albany avenues and "several traffic lights along Broadway working simultaneously to stop speeding on Broadway, and also give pedestrian and cross traffic a chance to cross with safety."

The report also asked "that the traffic control committee of the Common Council make a thorough investigation before granting any more loading zones."

The 57th annual report mentioned the changes in the past year, including the promotion of Chief Van Buren from the rank of captain, advancement of Lt. William Reddell to captain; Sgt. James P. Martin to lieutenant; Patrolman William Messing to sergeant and Raymond Wells' appointment as patrolman.

The report noted that Officer Ralph Seisen, assigned to motor cycle, resigned April 26, and Detective Wesley Cramer, on sick leave, applied for accidental disability pension Sept. 23 and was taken off the payroll Oct. 23.

The department now has 39 officers and "all officers have had training in the local Federal Bureau of Investigation police training school, and all are qualified as marksmen or pistol experts."

The chief also recommended that "an automobile be purchased for the chief of police to be used in the work pertaining to the duties as chief of police."

The chief wanted the board, members of the force, the Kingston Daily Freeman, The Ulster County News, Radio Station WKNY, all citizens, city officials and city departments, "who have helped make my first year as chief of police of the City of Kingston a success."

The chief stressed in submitting his statistical report that crime conditions are low here as compared to other cities of this size. The report showing 993 arrests for the year follows:

Total number of arrests made by the Police Department from January 1, 1948 to December 31, 1948, was 993, of which 905 were males and 88 were females.

The arrests by months are:

	Male	Female	Total
January .....	44	2	46
February .....	53	0	53
March .....	49	2	51
April .....	50	2	52
May .....	95	9	104
June .....	106	8	114
July .....	98	5	103
August .....	81	13	94
September .....	86	7	103
October .....	96	3	99
November .....	76	4	80
December .....	61	3	64
Total .....	905	58	963

Highest number of arrests on a single charge, the report shows, was 318, for public intoxication. Next was 194 for violations of the vehicle and traffic laws, and third, 192 for disorderly conduct.

The report shows 77 arrests for violations of the city traffic code, and only nine for violations of the parking meter ordinance for the year.

Highest in number of arrests on more serious charges was 57 for third degree assault. Only one was made for assault, second degree.

Nine arrests were made on charges of first degree grand larceny and five for second degree grand larceny, and the report shows 17 arrests for petit larceny and two others for petit larceny involving fraudulent checks.

The police arrested 27 under subdivisions of the vehicle and traffic laws, and only eight arrests were made for juvenile delinquency.

Four arrests were made on charges of third degree larceny and six on gambling charges, two involving bookmaking and four policy.

The report shows that of the 993 arrests for the year, 106 were fined, 193 committed to jail, 176 given suspended sentences, 97 discharged by the court, 34 cases were withdrawn, and 273 forfeited bail.

Twenty-eight cases were referred to the grand jury, nine went to children's court, and 22 cases are still pending.

Paris, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Finance Ministry unexpectedly ordered the French stock exchange closed today and announced all bonds issued by the French government will be recalled. The cabinet meanwhile was summoned to a special session this afternoon. The Finance Ministry announcement said that to "avoid unhealthy speculation" all stock exchanges would be closed today in France and North Africa.

Butter Price Drops
New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—Large store chains in the metropolitan area, trimmed the price of top grade butter to 69 cents a pound today. Grade "A" white eggs were reduced to two cents a dozen and sold at 69 to 70 cents in self-service supermarkets. The retail reductions followed wholesale declines which accompanied heavy receipts of the dairy products.

Marines Please 500 Patrons at 3rd Annual Ball

Approximately 500 people attended the third annual ball of Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League, Thursday night at the New York State Armory to enjoy a sparkling floor show and dance to the music of Don Pierson's 10-piece orchestra.

There was plenty of activity right up to the "last gun" at 1 a. m. as those who enjoy good dance music took advantage of the musical arrangements by the local band, most of whom were ex-servicemen.

The entertainment that went on in the center of the armory drill hall featured a variety of artists booked through the Jimmy Daley agency of New York. Comedy was the keynote and laughter resounded through the spacious hall that was turned into a regular night club with the tables for guests to enjoy refreshments while they saw the show.

Patrons arriving early were furnished with a concert from 9 to 10 o'clock, then Commandant Eugene B. Barkow, general chairman of the ball, gave a brief address of welcome and appreciation to supporters of the marine's social event. He introduced Snookie Gordon, mistress of ceremonies, who did a masterful job in handling the show.

Miss Gordon told stories and went through comedy routines with finesse. She turned two stooges, Francis Cronk and Joe Kelly, into dancing "chorines" and the audience teemed with laughter as she did the light fantastic with them in their skirts and bonnets.

DeMay and Moore, a knockout ballroom team performed to the delight of the audience, and one lady got into the act unexpectedly. Moore spun her around on his shoulders after his feminine partner had slid across the floor and under one of the tables.

Other acts were Doris Faye, pretty ventriloquist, with her dummy, Tyrone, and Freddy Jane whose imitations of opera singers and popular vocalists provoked a deluge of laughter.

Encores kept the show running for more than a half hour past the scheduled time, and compliments on the program were heard for the rest of the night.

A goodly portion of the receipts from the annual affairs sponsored by the Marine Corps League goes to veterans' hospitals for rehabilitation work as announced prior to the ball when letters were published expressing thanks for donations from the Ulster county detachment.

Chairmen of committees in charge of arranging last night's event were Eugene V. Barkow, Francis Cronk, Edward Esposito, Harold Machold, Albert J. Melville, John R. Mayone, Augustus S. Brinnier, and Thomas E. Finerty. Concerning the response of merchants, organizations, and individuals solicited for advertisements in the program journal, a Chairman Brinnier remarked that their friendly attitude and co-operation indicates that there are many in this area satisfied with their projects in behalf of veterans.

Ulster Detachment was organized in 1942 through the efforts of

Newburgh's Plan

Newburgh police department present at a P.B.A. meeting held in the Newburgh council chambers at city hall.

Patrolman Charles Milliken, P.B.A. president, backed Keresman to the letter as the state official said: "If you are to have equality under these rules, you must have uniform work conditions. Actually, unlimited sick leave due to the hazards of the job is our desire."

"Equality would mean a 40-hour work week, time and one-half for overtime, 10 per cent extra as compensation for extra work, the same number of holidays off with pay as other city workers, and pay for extra work in court and on off time duty," Keresman declared.

MILLIKEN said P.B.A. representatives would be present at Monday's City Council meeting to put forth their objections formally to the City's Manager's propositions.

The state P.B.A. official made it plain that "by the very nature of the job you cannot classify the patrolmen in line with other employees. They are subject to call at all times. It is a hazardous occupation. The present proposal is absolutely unfair regarding sick leave, and you put politics into police pay when you remove the automatic salary increase."

"Why should one man be made a czar over police salaries? If a man's tardiness or lack of attention to duty is to be considered in setting his yearly wage, why not take the course of justice and fairly hold a department review of his conduct based on charges and objections to his record?"

PATROLMEN MILLIKEN pointed out that this criticism applied to Section 20 of the new review proposals in which an employee's salary status could be affected by a superior's approval he said.

"With this proposition the city of Newburgh is taking a backward step," Keresman said.

"In general our criticism is that if you want to treat the patrolman as any other employee, you must first bring him up to the level of these other employees."

"Matters like this are bringing to a head throughout the state the general question of a basic adjustment in the working conditions of policemen."

"We are maintaining legislative pressure at Albany for state-wide police working improvements, as advanced by Senator Wicks. We know that many municipalities face financial crises at the present time and so our goal is not clearly in sight."

Smoking in Bed
New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—A mother's smoking in bed was blamed by police for the death early today of her one-month-old daughter, who was sleeping beside her. The infant, Linda Ballard, died of suffocation by smoke from burning bedclothes.

The mother, Mrs. Mildred Ballard had dozed off while smoking a cigarette, Detective Nicholas Walcott said. The infant was burned on the head. Three other children were sleeping in another room. The father, Julius, has been under treatment in a hospital for some time.

thing in the official, political and diplomatic sets gathered in the vast hall, showing off stunning gowns, diamonds and full-dress black and white.

And there were plenty of lesser lights who got their white ties and tails out of moth balls or rental agencies. Sweeping nervously over them all were multi-colored beacons that never stayed still. Playing for their dancing were Guy Lombardo, Xavier Cugat and Benny Goodman.

The new vice president, Alben W. Barkley, was there, too. He had taken his oath of office six minutes before the President at ceremonies on a wide, white platform erected across the east steps of the capitol building.

One of Climax Events
The ball was one of the climax events of the inauguration festivities.

Things tapered off today. But even so, tireless Mr. Truman was ready to make the rounds of more events—a Democratic women's get-together (around 1 p. m.), a late afternoon reception (5 p. m.) given by Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, a look-in tonight on an inaugural ball for Barkley.

For a man who has been putting in 18 hours a day on the inaugural whirl, that was rather a light day.

It gave Washington a chance to shoo some of the hundreds of thousands of visitors out of town and shake off the effects of the most spectacular inauguration and parade of all time.

The Chief Executive himself led the procession from the Capitol to the White House. And then for three solid hours he stood up, Barkley by his side, and watched the rest of it go by.

There was no question but that both of them had a tremendous thrill out of it all—Truman the one-time farm boy, Barkley who was born in a log cabin, now the two top men in the mightiest of nations.

Spread out for their special benefit—and for hundreds of thousands of other onlookers—was a dazzling array of bands, floats and marching.

Dozens of beautiful girls, a live skunk on a leash, a sit-up-and-beg dog, champion drill teams, stiff rows of West Point cadets and Annapolis midshipmen, Missouri mules, a jeep that butted a horse, uniforms and floats in colors that would make a rainbow curl up and go.

Up above, there were more planes than Washington ever saw before at one time—700 of the best armed services can muster. Enormous, 150-ton bombers, swift, sleek jet fighters, a dawning navy blimp that sauntered back and forth.

For most of the governors in the parade along the Pennsylvania Avenue, the President had a friendly greeting. But his smile froze at the appearance of J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who ran against him on the States' Rights ticket.

Nicest Parade
After it was all over, Mr. Truman thought it was "a nice parade, the finest I ever saw."

He didn't even admit he was cold. But then, he had frequent repeats on coffee in paper cups, and sandwiches to pick at.

Margaret, who was "almost frozen" at the start of the parade, gave up along with her mother before it was over. So did a lot of people, some of whom had huddled along curbstones since dawn.

Despite a week of homage and acclaim, it was with "humility" and a "deep resolve to do all that I can" for the welfare of America and the peace of the world that Truman accepted the honors of his fellow citizens.

He had repeated after Chief Justice Vinson, an old friend, the vow to do his best in the most trying job in the world.

And the world listened in by radio as he launched a moment later into his inaugural address.

It was a hard-punching speech that pounded the "false philosophy" of Communism, without mentioning Russia directly.

Twenty feet away, stone-faced, sat Soviet Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin.

He and the scores of thousands gathered on the capitol plaza heard the President speak up for a "bold new program" to spread through other lands the benefits of American scientific and industrial know-how.

But many of the senators and congressmen in that audience wondered what he meant when he spoke of "guarantees to the investor" who helps foster economic advancement abroad.

Mr. Truman made it clear that he didn't mean "the old imperialism—exploitation for foreign profit."

There were there any doubts about the meaning of three other main points in his program for extending to other countries the Democratic "faith by which we live."

Continued support for the United Nations; continued programs for world economic recovery; the strengthening of "freedom-loving" nations against the dangers of aggression. Soon, he said, he will send Congress a treaty for a defense alliance with North Atlantic partners.

Bareheaded, minus an overcoat, Mr. Truman spoke slowly and solemnly for 21 minutes. Time and again he went back to the theme that in these days of "grave uncertainty," the "supreme need of our time is for men to learn to live together in peace and harmony."

"The initiative," he said, "is ours. . . . We are ready to undertake new projects to strengthen the free world."

$117 Fright Bill
London, Ont., Jan. 21 (AP)—The police commission said today it paid a $117 medical bill for a woman motorist who suffered "fright and excitement" when police commandeered her automobile to chase a stolen car.

Olive March of Dimes Dance

Arrangements are being completed for the March of Dimes benefit dance on Saturday evening, January 29 at Chalet Indien, Boiceville by the Town of Olive Chapter, Infantile Paralysis Foundation. The committee in charge, left to right, are Linda Rothmann, aged five years of Olive Bridge, Mrs. John Nichols of Olive Bridge and Mrs. Genevieve McLean of Samsonville, members of the Dance Committee, and Harold Wilkins of Shokan, chairman. Linda is very much interested in the benefit dance because her brother has been a polio victim since August 5 last and is now in the New York State Reconstruction Hospital at Haverstraw. of Trans-Jordan within a few days. This would be a move to iron out differences between the two big powers on Middle Eastern affairs and to promote peace between Jews and Arabs.

Here, it was reported unofficially that the British move would be to extend "de facto" recognition—meaning to acknowledge Israel's existence as an operating government with which it can do business.

United States recognition of Trans-Jordan probably will take a similar form. But the United States may, at the same time, go one step further than that, thus far and accord Israel "de jure" recognition. This would mean recognition of Israel as the legal government of the former British mandate, and an exchange of diplomats. U. S. recognition of Israel now is on a de facto basis.

The two moves apparently were the basis of recent talks between Sir Oliver Franks, British ambassador in the United States, and Robert Lovett, retiring undersecretary of state.

The strategy behind the plan obviously was designed to answer charges the United States is giving primary consideration to the interests of the Jews in Palestine while Britain champions those of the Arabs.

It is expected to be announced just two days before debate on Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's Palestine policies, fixed for next Wednesday.

Negotiations with Lebanon
Tel Aviv, Israel, Jan. 21 (AP)—Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok says Israel is negotiating with both Lebanon and Trans-Jordan but the talks have not yet reached a decisive stage.

Shertok's statement to the State Council yesterday was the first official comment on amicable reports current here for the past few days. Preliminary talks were said to have taken place between Israel and Lebanese representatives along the Lebanese-Israeli frontier.

In connection with the Trans-Jordan talks, informants said they were being conducted on a far broader basis than a mere ceasefire or truce arrangement. They said they have been shrouded in secrecy to avoid any embarrassment on the part of King Abdullah with Britain.

Shertok reiterated Israel's stand that dispatch of British troops to the Trans-Jordan port of Aqaba "constituted a threat to Israel's territorial integrity." He said the present situation cannot justify any request by Trans-Jordan for:

breakfast there given by the Missouri delegation in Congress.

Congressmen who were present told reporters he said that U. S. production could not catch up with demand for 100 years if the standard of living in Asiatic countries could be raised two per cent.

A broad program of economic aid overseas is one of the foundations of the program the President outlined in yesterday's inaugural address.

Long-time prosperity in this country would be the result of such a rise in Asiatic living standards, Mr. Truman was reported to have said. Presumably he meant that the eastern countries would be buying more goods and materials from the U. S.

Mr. Truman also was quoted as saying he realizes the responsibility he has on national and international affairs—and that Congress has an equal responsibility. Those present said he asked for teamwork in striving for peace.

No one wants another war, the President said, and he does not believe there is any necessity for another one if everybody works for peace.

Another war might set the nation back a century in progress, he was quoted as saying.

The Missourians said the President also discussed Communism in much the same vein as he did in the address yesterday which set out the task of the new secretary of state.

Reds Unimpressed
Moscow, Jan. 21 (AP)—Pravda today devoted two paragraphs to a Jass dispatch from Washington on President Truman's inauguration. The story in the official Communist paper mentioned that Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin was present. The President's speech has not been published or commented on so far.

A Washington dispatch in Trud told of 5,000 persons demonstrating for civil rights. Other dispatches from the U. S. reported the trial of American Communist leaders. The text of Mr. Truman's address was heard here clearly in Russian last night over the Voice of America broadcast.

'THINKING' DEVICE

It may be possible to build a machine that thinks like a human being, says Dr. W. R. Ashby, research head of an English mental hospital. He and a group of other scientists have already made a start in that direction. "Making a synthetic brain requires now little more than time and labor," is the doctor's confident prediction.

Thus far the thinking machine performs only one primitive function. When its electrical tensions are in a certain balance, it feels "comfortable." If its flow of current is altered or its magnets are moved, the gadget of its own accord readjusts itself to another "comfortable" condition.

Well, that is an encouraging sign. Apparently the invention is, in effect, doing something similar to turning over in bed or settling itself more snugly in an easy chair. We assume that electricity, turned on and off, takes care of its need for nourishment and rest. But this desire for comfort is definitely animal, and maybe human, behavior.

That, of course, is only a beginning. As Dr. Ashby and his associates put in more time and labor, the machine will find that comfort is harder to achieve as its thinking grows more complex. It will find that it must give up its indolent life and start doing some work to justify its existence.

We wonder, though, whether the English inventors should be content with just making a machine that thinks like a human being. If indeed they are on the path toward that goal, why not put in some more time and labor and turn out something better?

Educators, psychiatrists and others are constantly trying to work the bugs out of the human thinking system. But this is a devious and difficult task. Dr. Ashby obviously has a chance to do the same thing more easily, since he is working with emotionally uncomplicated batteries and magnets.

An uncluttered mechanical mind would be a handy thing in government, particularly in international relations. Built properly, it would have no political, social or racial prejudice. It would be wise, just, humane and incorruptible. Its judgment would be unswayed by nationalistic pride or lust for pride.

Who knows but that there will be, in some dimly distant time, a United Nations in which the Security Council is replaced by a dispassionate, super-wise thinking machine. It might be a sort of electrical oracle to which the tribes of men could bring their troubles and receive a solution as simply as they now receive their fortunes from a penny weighing machine.

And in that distant time, when future scientists have improved on the start that Dr. Ashby has made, there might even be a machine that not only could make the world's most important decisions, but enforce them as well.

SOVIET TRIBULATIONS

Russian economists are in a dither. Like good Marxists and dutiful followers of Stalin, they have been predicting a speedy business crash in the United States. Unfortunately for their standing as prophets, we haven't crashed. Now the Institute of Economics of the Soviet Academy of Sciences has been holding meetings to find out why.

The guess may be hazarded that they are less interested in finding out why than in producing a statement which will sound good to the Politburo. What they probably will do in the end is to decide that we really are in an economic tailspin, and that if the figures don't show it this must be due to a bourgeois conspiracy against truth.

RUSSIA'S CHINA

Reports from China swell on the subject of possible Soviet Russian mediation between the Chinese government and the Chinese Communists. Although a mediation note has been addressed to four powers, the report is to the effect that the cabinet has put pressure on Chiang to accept Russian mediation, if there is any way of getting it. Since 1925, Sun Fo has been intermittently pro and anti-Russian and there is no telling which way he will jump in the present situation, which is as critical as any China has faced in recent years.

Should Soviet Russia accept China's invitation, it will be on the basis of the treaty between the two countries. There can be no question but that this is distasteful to General Chiang, whose relations with Soviet Russia have been unsatisfactory since 1927. However, a responsible cabinet has come into existence under Sun Fo and it has been pressing for an end to the war. Also, Chiang has no alternative, having been deserted by the United States.

The difficulties between Chiang Kai-shek and the United States go back to the Tehran and Yalta conferences at which Soviet Russia demanded either the Dardanelles or an open-water port on the Pacific as the price for participation in the war against Japan. Roosevelt and Churchill rejected the Dardanelles plan, which would have given Russia an entry into the British Mediterranean world, but agreed to give Soviet Russia Manchuria and half of Korea (north of the 38th parallel) and the Kuriles.

In fact, Roosevelt and Churchill agreed not only to cede to Chiang, with whom they had previously come to a contrary arrangement, but they accepted Russia as the successor to Japan on the continent of Asia. Chiang was forced to swallow that in spite of a terrific loss of face.

The troubles between Chiang Kai-shek and the United States go back to General "Vinegar" Joe Stilwell, who made impossible demands on China—practically, the transference of the authority of office from Chiang to Stilwell. Before Stilwell handed his ultimatum to Chiang, General Pat Hurley had come to satisfactory arrangements with Chiang, both as to Stilwell's authority and American participation. Stilwell bypassed Hurley and, through General George Marshall, got authority from President Roosevelt to issue his ultimatum.

Ultimately, his situation broke Stilwell. Chiang demanded his recall, to which Roosevelt had to agree. Stilwell did not long survive this failure of his policies. I suppose his friends associate his death with his disappointment and resent Chiang for that reason.

At any rate, when General Marshall came to China, he sought to reinstate the Stilwell policy of a coalition government which would include the Communists. Subsequently, the American attitude toward the Communists in all countries changed and Marshall revised his judgment of the Chinese Communists. Nevertheless, he remained antagonistic to Chiang, seeking a successor group, among others, the "political science group," which Chiang actually installed in office as a sop to the Americans. This group failed.

More recently, the official atmosphere in this country has been favorable to the aspirations of Chiang's brother-in-law, T. V. Soong, who had been in the United States for some years and left behind a group of Americans whom he had employed in connection with loan arrangements. They have been speaking up for him as a successor to Chiang. Whether they are sincere has to be seen. However, the idea seems to have been that any successor to Chiang would be acceptable.

Of such minor stuff, or personal distastes, of ambitions unsatisfied and plans thwarted, is history made. Chiang has held out a long time against American internal politics and prejudices, as it affected him and his country, until he was faced only by personal defeat, or the prolonged civil war and the conquest of his country by Soviet Russia, which would mean the end of the Chinese Communist party. And now the Chinese of all Communist parties are turning toward Russia for mediation which would facilitate conquest while giving the appearance of reasonable friendship.

DETECTION CENTER

All over the world today, groups of men and women are organizing to fight the ills that interfere with the health and happiness of mankind. Thus, there are diabetes, arthritis, epilepsy, heart, lung (tuberculosis), and most important at present, cancer organizations.

It now is known that cancer can be cured in its early stages. Cancer organizations, while continuing to spend money to try to find the cause of cancer, are spending more and more money to supply clinics with detection centers or centers. These centers are under the supervision of cancer specialists and are equipped to detect cancer in its early stages.

An editorial in the "Journal of the American Medical Association" some weeks ago stated that the medical attack on cancer includes: (1) prevention, (2) early detection, and (3) adequate treatment. Because early detection is the only way life can be saved, the best method of preventing cancer can be getting beyond the curable stage and be to have every man and woman, especially over 40, examined—even if perfectly well.

To make such examination of every well man and woman would cost much money, but would save valuable lives as the middle-aged man and woman is a valuable asset to the community. As this universal examination may be some time in coming, what can and should be done at present to prevent cancer and to find it before it is too late?

The suggestion that can be followed at present is that every physician, busy as most of them are these days, should see more cancer patients, study their early appearance and be on the watch for the disease in all his middle-aged patients, men and women.

Diagnostic examinations are of two general types: (a) The relatively brief examination of apparently well persons over 40, in a search for tumors that are easy to see and treat (especially skin, lips, breast, uterus and rectum); and (b) the more detailed examination of persons with early suspicious signs and symptoms of cancer.

The slogan should be: "Every physician's office a detection center."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
By Drew Pearson

Washington—Without benefit of flashbulbs or fanfare, an important Southern Congressman has put civil rights to work on a voluntary basis.

Congressman Henderson Lanham of Rome, Georgia, who believes in cooperation with Negroes but doesn't like laws forcing cooperation, walked in the office of the leading Negro member of Congress, William Dawson of Chicago, the other day and offered to serve under him.

Lanham is No. 3 man on the important House Committee on Executive Expenditures, and he agreed to take a back seat to the Negro. He also had a pleasant talk with the Chicago Democrat about their boyhood back in Georgia. It developed that they had been reared only a few miles apart.

Lanham asked about Dawson's family and learned his grandparents had been slaves, once owned by the founders of Dawson. Discussing politics, the two agreed there was no reason to let Jim Crowism keep them from working together in Congress.

"We used to play with white children," recalled Dawson. "There was no hatred between children. We used to get in fights, but they were children's fights. There was no racial bitterness."

Another Southern Congressman, Porter Hardy of Virginia, has also announced he will stay on Dawson's committee.

Dinner for Dawson

Meanwhile a dinner is being held tonight at the Interior Department in honor of the first Negro ever to become chairman of a Congressional committee.

Actually, Congressman Dawson tried to discourage the dinner. He felt it would put too many of his Southern colleagues on the spot. However, his Southern friends had proceeded with the plans without consulting him.

So far, southern congressmen have all declined, though many have paid tribute to Dawson personally. Congressman Albert Thomas of Texas sent a $25 check for the dinner's testimonial fund, which will be used to grant loans to Negro college students. Thomas also wrote: "Permit me to say I have served with Bill for many years. He is a fine man, a great public servant and a close friend."

Other southerners also wrote kind words of tribute, such as Kentucky's Congressman Frank Churchill who scribbled underneath his formal letter turning down the invitation: "Congressman Dawson has the respect of all the members of Congress. He is a good man."

The reason for these tributes is modest Congressman Dawson, himself. He has plugged along quietly and efficiently, keeping in the background, avoiding clashes with such demagogues as Mississippi's John Rankin, until he has now been accepted into the leadership of the House.

White House Disunity

Only a handful of insiders know it, but the new-found "hard-hitting" of the Truman administration has already suffered a few serious bruises around the presidential inner circle.

Participants in the struggle are members of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, who are leading among themselves, and with officials of the Interior Department. Their worst split is over expansion of the steel industry. Undersecretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman and Assistant Secretary of Interior Jebby Davidson joined with Senator O'Mahoney in demanding that Truman force the steel industry to expand.

However, the chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, Dr. Edwin Nourse, dissented vigorously. As a result, snide remarks have begun to fly back and forth across the President's desk. Nourse now calls the steel-expansion advocates "eager beavers." They, in turn, call him a "Tory."

President Truman is reported upset and disappointed over the row, because only last November he asked all his economic aides to get together on a joint program on which there could be complete harmony.

Again just before New Year's Day Truman spent another hour with his economic advisers plus Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, Secretary of Labor Tobin, Secretary of Interior Krug and Secretary of Commerce Sawyer. It was only after he thought he had their complete approval that he later made his economic proposals to Congress.

Despite this, Dr. Nourse has openly broken the unity by delivering an off-the-record speech in New York denouncing the President's proposals to expand

Inaugural Address, With Its International Viewpoints, Is Considered Unprecedented in History of Nation
By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 21—Whatever will be read throughout the world as a serious proclamation of American purpose. For it tells that the United States intends to go ahead with the North Atlantic Security Alliance and with its program of economic rehabilitation for Europe—two circumstances that should make the Russians pause and determine whether this isn't really the best occasion to end the "cold war" and usher in a new era of peaceful relations between former allies.

Perhaps it is an omen of good things to come, for the President certainly gauged the interest of the world correctly as he chose to emphasize above all else the desire of the United States for peace with Russia.

This is the moment when a move for peace is most opportune. The Russians already seem to sense it, for they have switched their propaganda to peace talk. Also, as the new administration opens, the inaugural address serves notice that all Americans are united on the single theme—peace in the world. No other topic could have aroused such widespread approval. It was a way to reiterate the nonpartisan feeling that the American people have about international affairs nowadays.

With a new secretary of state—youthful, vigorous, resourceful and experienced—hold here, it may be that the Russians have come to the conclusion that this is the time to start on a new tack. Certainly any evidence that the Russians mean what they espouse will be welcomed.

The atmosphere is one of suspicion, of course. There are some who believe that it is futile to discuss anything with Russia. Up to now the United States has insisted that the Russians must show their good faith by some concrete act. But there are moves that can be made which do not involve risk and which can be utilized to test the earnestness of the Russian purpose.

Plainly an interlude in the "cold war" is due. The Russians have more to gain than lose by agreeing now to an Austrian treaty and to lifting of the Berlin blockade. These matters can be negotiated promptly if there is a will on both sides.

Mr. Truman's inaugural speech

AS PEGLER SEES IT
By WESTBROOK PEGLER

In view of the insipid show that Adolf Augustus Berle, Jr., of Harvard law (of course), put on before the Committee on Un-American Activities in the Alger Hiss case, I have to suspect that he exceeded himself when he saw blood on the moon in New York on October 15, 1937 as reported in the press of that day. Florentino La Guardia, the little padrone of the Bolsheviks, was running for mayor against Jeremiah Mahoney, the Democrat. Berle, the fearless Cambridge double-dome who recently longwindedly the committee report with his other-hand testimony, was on fire with revolutionary ardor.

"To unify the Democratic party," he said, "you don't need a love feast. You need a purge and a firing squad. Get rid of the whole rag-tag and bob-tail of grafters and then talk about a party."

Double-dome certainly told them that night. Nobody said when he buried his dead, but if I had been there I would have called for a saliva test because brother Berle doesn't seem as rough as all that, naturally. He may now be thinking of the day when the Americans get their country back. He may be afraid that they might think well of his old firing-squad idea, and use him in an intact-police case, before the Committee on Un-American Activities, this other-hand Harvard flannel-mouth shot off the most garrulous bazoo that Washington has heard in 16 years, short of La Boca Grande herself, and still, when they boiled it down, the boys couldn't quite decide what their guest artist had told them.

This fellow is out of the State Department now and you wouldn't want to bet that Gaby Currier ever coming back. Nevertheless, Harvard law still runs the plant and pipelines make a tracery like the veins of a rum-pot's nose. For the first time in memory, it is degraded, disgraced and distrusted. The department earned this reputation through a tangle of shrewish, jealous, backbiting buck-pretties who gossiped and undercut on another like so many beetles in a back-room and ran blabbing rumors and slants and secrets. Cordell Hull, a muscled old side-hill dodger, was double-crossed not only by feline creatures in his own department but by Roosevelt himself, who delighted in the catting. That the Communists had access to common scandals in the system goes without saying. Berle himself testified on oath that one outsider enjoyed a lenk, and another witness swore that this outsider's agents included a Communist from the office of the Daily Worker. There is no telling who blackmailed what secrets out of vulnerable men, but other governments would not hesitate to use that not-so-private background in the broadcasting trade.

So President Truman has not cleaned up the State Department by appointing Acheson, and, for any honor it may do this old Continued on Page Five

Brings Suit for Rent Overcharge

New York, Jan. 21 (Special)—A suit was filed in Federal Court here Thursday by Tighe Woods, as National Housing Expediter, in which Otto Mayr, operator of a building at 5 Wurts street, Kingston, is claimed to have violated the rent ceiling.

Effectively, according to the complaint, Mayr overcharged his tenant, Angelo Culljak, $34.30 in the period from November 1, 1948, to December 31, 1948, just two months by requiring him to furnish his own heat. The $34.30 is what the necessary coal cost Culljak.

The court is asked to enjoin Mayr from further such violations and to order the return of the excess.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Double Squeeze Needs Good Timing

BY WILLIAM F. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Today we introduce Ben McKenney, another of Columbus, Ohio's good bridge players. Mr. McKenney owns and manages the Columbus Bridge Club, and is known as a quiet, modest player, but one never to be underrated.

In today's hand, Mr. McKenney executed a very unusual and interesting squeeze play to make his contract. He won the opening lead of the queen of spades with dummy's ace, crushed the ace of clubs and led the small club, West winning with the king.

West could not return his partner's spade, so he led back the five of diamonds. McKenney won this trick with the king of diamonds, then led the small heart and finessed dummy's queen, which held. He next crushed the high spade, returned to his own hand with the ace of diamonds, and cashed the balance of the clubs.

The last three cards in each hand are underlined. When declarer led the last club, East had to discard either the Jack of spades, which could establish dummy's extra trick, or the ten of hearts, in which case both of dummy's hearts would be good, because West, too, was squeezed. He could not hold the nine and eight of hearts and the queen of diamonds.

This is a double squeeze and requires very nice timing.

Another Pleads Guilty

New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—A second defendant in the attempted $100,000 extortion from Edgar E. Luckenbach, Jr., pleaded guilty yesterday. Trial of a third suspect was set for Monday. Howard Vey, 32, of New York made the guilty plea in General Sessions Court. Vey was remanded for sentence February 18 when another defendant, Dale Neldich, 24, of 142 Landmark avenue, Yonkers, N. Y., also is to be sentenced. Neldich pleaded guilty last month. A third man, Ansel "Artie" Stolzberg, 27, of the Bronx will be tried on charges of conspiracy and attempted extortion. The trio was arrested after demands were made on Luckenbach last October that he contribute to a pseudo veteran organization under threat of bodily harm.

Called Snatchers

New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—Six Bronx Negro teen-agers were booked at the Borthgate avenue police station yesterday in connection with a series of purse-snatchings and petty extortions which detectives say the prisoners admit, netted them almost $2,000 in the past four months. Four others—their identities given detectives by those in custody—still are being sought. The gang, detectives said, had been paying on unescorted women in the Crotona Park East-Fulton avenue section of the Bronx, and had been obtaining the pocket money of school children by threats of beatings.

THE BIG DAY BEGINS . . .

For the Trumans and the Barkleys, Thursday, January 20 in Washington was their day. For Harry Truman himself, the day had begun earlier when he stepped out to breakfast in fedora and business suit. But this was the start of the day's big business—inauguration—in top hat and with orchids as the President and Vice-President-elect left Blair House for the ceremonies. Left to right: Mrs. Truman; Margaret Truman; Mrs. Max Truitt, Barkley's daughter; Alben W. Barkley, President Truman. (NEA Telephoto)

... AND THIS WAS BARKLEY'S

After President Truman had been sworn in, Kentucky's Alben W. Barkley, who had been hidden from the cameras by the President until then, stepped into the spotlight. While Truman (extreme right) watched, Barkley took the oath at 12:33 p. m. to become the nation's first vice president since 1945. (NEA Telephoto)

Harvard lie, in denying knowledge of any Communist connections of his friends, the Hiss brothers, he is no worse than Felix or the Gub. Frankfurter, who brought Alger Hiss to Washington, along with a lot of creatures who can't deny treachery to the United States, hasn't been asked to speak his piece. I tried to ask him, but he shined up his ivory tower and slammed the hatch. There is no reason at all why the Committee on Un-American Activities shouldn't have stuck a subpoena in his hand and dragged him down the street to the caucus room to lay it on the line after all these years of working back stairs, pulling wires and dropping his study boys into leaky positions.

Neither Frankfurter nor Acheson ever was asked a single question, Nor Eleanor, nor Bubblehead Wallace nor David K. Niles. Berle's double-talk assayed little and most of that little was faulted when Acheson took the stand before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. So the only impression that the people could get from all this is a conviction, that the State Department is a political reservation fought over by people of equivocal devotion to the U. S. A.

The Berle song-and-dance has been touched up before, but few of the people will ever have a chance to inspect his responses. Here is only a sample:

"We likewise tried to trace out the groups which endeavored to have information in Washington and we endeavored to reach back to see whether the Communist apparatus was beginning to activate the foreign language groups in the United States. This brought

Wallace Says Truman Address Asks for War

New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace says President Truman's inaugural address "comes closer to a declaration of war than the inaugural address of any peacetime president in our history."
The Progressive party chief said last night Mr. Truman asked the United States to prepare for "a war against almost half of the people of the globe."
Wallace said Mr. Truman's "statement that capitalism and Communism cannot live together in one world makes war the only eventual alternative."
Wallace said in a statement: that the presidential address asked for preparation for war against "the 250,000,000 inhabitants of Russia and eastern Europe, the 300,000,000 Chinese people who are about to establish a coalition government with Communist participation and the millions in western Europe and Asia who are adherents of some form of Marxist Socialism."

To Tell Congressmen

New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—The General Electric Company is sponsoring a plan whereby its more than 100,000 employees may easily tell their congressmen how they feel about labor issues. The company says it will distribute to all employees today questionnaires covering various controversial labor questions, along with a suggestion that the employees send their answers to their congressmen.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

Another fan-letter arrived from Washington, D. C. He writes: "I enjoyed the letter from F. A. G. in your column, with reference to the early autos in Kingston. No doubt he also remembers that with those open models one was required to wear a duster, cap and goggles to protect himself from dust and dirt for there were but few paved streets and highways in those days. Ask, F. A. G., if he remembers any women drivers at that time."

"While on the auto subject, I wonder how many people remember the first taxi cabs in Kingston. If my memory serves me right, my good friend, George Schryver, was among the first, if not the first to put a taxi in operation on the streets of Kingston. At that time he was the proprietor of the old Eichler Hotel, at the West Shore railroad station. Before the taxi, there was what the people called a Jitney Bus. I wonder how many names of old make cars your readers can remember, such as Stevens-Duryea, Saxon, Chalmers, etc. After leaving Winston & Co. (builders of Ashokan Dam) I went to Detroit, to work at the Chalmers Motor Co. and then Emerson Co. made a go of it. No doubt I would have returned to Kingston," Mr. G. W. G. concluded.

Feb. 15, 1912—Mrs. Conrad Rabel, of Saratoga bought the Eichler Hotel from George J. Schryver. It was said, then that Mr. Schryver intended retiring from the hotel business to devote his entire time to his Kingston Taxicab Co. Old-timers say that as far as they remember, Mr. Schryver was the first to introduce auto taxi in Kingston. He was also active in the automobile field with salesrooms on North Front street. According to a recent item, Jitney taxis, or the five-cent taxi, were started out in Phoenix, Arizona in 1913 and spread all over the United States. Who remembers the 5-cent Jitney in Kingston?

Ex-Bomber Pilot Is Paralyzed in Car Mishap

Hempstead, N. Y., Jan. 21 (AP)—

An ex-bomber pilot was reported in fair condition in a hospital here today after he was found beside a Long Island highway where he lay helplessly injured for 12 hours.

Lawrence Heather, 27, of St. Albans, Queens, suffered a broken back and broken shoulder when his car plunged off the Wantagh Causeway before dawn yesterday and rolled over several times.

Heather, thrown about 30 feet from the wrecked car, was paralyzed from the waist down. He could move only one arm. Although in intense pain, he remained conscious most of the time.

After day broke, he tried to attract passing motorists by screaming. No one noticed him until yesterday afternoon when Donald F. Welch, 19, of West Hempstead, saw the wrecked car as he was returning from a fishing trip.

Welch notified state police, who sent an ambulance.

Heather, a flight instructor at Arnyville, flew 35 bombing missions in the war, and won the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Accuses Murtagh

New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—The head of the Dairywomen's League Cooperative Association says City Investigation Commissioner John M. Murtagh has "injured the dairy industry in this market, including producers by false and reckless charges." League President Leon A. Chapin, of North Bangor, N. Y., said yesterday that Murtagh's "pretended concern for the dairy farmers' position is contradicted by his actions." Chapin issued the statement shortly after Murtagh took another shot at the league and Borden and Sheffield—the "Big Three" distributors—in his campaign for lower milk prices here. Murtagh said New York state's dairy farmers face a possible "serious economic plight" because the three major distributors seek "exorbitant profits." There was no immediate comment by Borden or Sheffield.

Water requires more heat to warm it and more cold to cool it than any other common substance.

Bills Proposed in Legislature

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 21 (AP)—Two Queens Republican legislators took the first step today in a move to eliminate what they called "competitive taxation" between the federal, state and local governments.

Senator Seymour Halpern and Assemblyman Fred W. Preller introduced bills to create a temporary commission to prepare legislation "leading to a readjustment of the tax relationship" between the three governments.

They said they were "deeply concerned" over the duplication of taxes levied by the federal and state governments on income, liquor, tobacco, gasoline and other items.

Also introduced today was a measure to establish a state-wide meat inspection system.

In sponsoring the measure, Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican, accused the state of being "wantonly neglectful in permitting the sale of diseased meat."

In a statement accompanying their legislation, Halpern and Preller asserted that "competitive taxation must stop and we feel confident that a commission such as we propose is a step in the right direction."

The commission would be directed to examine and study reports of all previous state and federal committees and commissions which have investigated the tax duplicating statutes of the state and federal governments.

The sponsors said that in their opinion the federal government should eventually repeal many of its excise taxes and leave them for the exclusive use of the state and local taxing authorities. In return, they suggested that the state get out of the income tax field.

Desmond's bill would require all slaughterhouses in the state to undergo inspection to see whether the animals they slaughter are fit for the consumer.

He said there were about 1,500 abattoirs in the state not subject to examination.

Under his bill the State Agriculture Department would set standards for city meat inspections and prohibit them from operating unless they conformed to state regulations.

Outside of municipalities, the department itself would inspect all animals slaughtered for food purposes.

Desmond said the program would support itself with fees to be paid by the slaughterhouses.

Assemblyman Richard H. Knaut, Binghamton Republican, introduced a bill in the Assembly to create a temporary state commission to study subversive and un-American activities and to devise means of combating them.

The commission would consist of three persons from each county, appointed by the governor.

Three Die in Chair

Ossining, N. Y., Jan. 21 (AP)—Three men walked silently to the Sing Sing prison electric chair last night and died for a New York city holdup murder. They were Eugene Pannel, 27; William Grant, 25, and George Monge, 25, all Negroes. Chaplains accompanied them into the death chamber. The three men were convicted of first degree murder for killing Guillermo Nunez in an upper Manhattan holdup November 27, 1946.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, Jan. 20.—Henry Erichsen was the only member of the town board absent at the meeting held Friday evening in the office of the town clerk. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Alexander attended to question the raise in the extra water tax. The explanation was that the cost of extension of water mains and labor made it necessary to raise the tax or else raise the water rental. It was thought best to distribute the cost among the users of water in the district. Mr. Alexander asked for no parking signs to be placed in front of The Elms. He was told that the highway passing there was a county road and such signs had to come from the county. Salvatore Frischer, whose family had to be taken from their home at the river in a boat during the recent high water asked restitution for the furniture damaged and protection from further floods. Several householders, Reed Parker, Andrew Messina, Ross Roinco from the North road were present to protest that sewers were too small to carry off the high water. They were told to consult the county engineer since the highway was a county road, as to ditches to carry off the water. The Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. asked for a blanket permit to tear up roads to extend gas lines. Their work, the board said, must be supervised by Frank Marx, water superintendent. The Diesel engine pumping water from Black creek over the mountains has not proved altogether satisfactory. Henry Erichsen, Albert Lester and W. J. Upright had been appointed a committee to get a price on the use of electricity. It was ascertained that a special line would have to be run from the substation at Ohioville to the pumping station at an estimated cost of $50,000. Added to this would be a motor and the care. The plan was abandoned for the present. W. H. Maynard appeared for the school board with the notice that one of the recently appointed officers, Mr. Murphy, could not take care of children crossing roads after school hours and that another would have to be appointed. Highland Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a reception for the recently elected matron and patron, Mrs. Harvey Short and Kenneth DuBois at the Masonic Temple, January 25.

Troops 38 and 69 met last week in charge of Mrs. John F. Wadlin, community chairman. The registration for 1949 was made. Mrs. Wadlin reported Troop 38 had two classes with Mrs. Gladys Mears and Mrs. George Wilkoff as leaders and Troop 69, made up of younger members, was led by Mrs. Joseph Sagarese and Mrs. Thomas Nardone. Merit badges were given out and stars awarded. The Brownie Troop has Mrs. Meredith Turner, Mrs. Stanley Lester and Mrs. Peter Burdass as leaders.

The Lions Club received four members at the dinner meeting Monday evening at Hotel DePrima. They were Peter Burdass, Francis Rhee, Philip DiStasi and Anthony Valochovic. G. Hallock Mackey, representing directors of the library and Andrew W. Lent, for the Gansse Foundation, were guests at the meeting. In answer to the club's interest in the future of the library Lent gave a resume of the library in its beginning when it was located on Main street, then the purchase and occupancy of the former Gansse dental office until the Gansse Foundation came into being with a health center established on the upper floors of the former Dr. Gansse home and the library furnished the lower floor and moved in. Lent explained that an architect had not submitted figures for the repair of the building damaged by fire last February, but that the library could again use the former quarters with the expense of floor covering, decorations, window shades, wall paper or paint and the necessary new book cases or shelves. This would mean an outlay of from $5,000 to $8,000. The library carried an insurance of $4,000, but the cost of repairs to book cases, desks, tables, chairs, rebinding books, light fixtures, etc., has meant an expense of well over $1,000. The present county health arrangements do not make the local center as much used as at first. At present two baby clinics a month are held and since the fire they are held in a room in the Lloyd Post home on Vineyard avenue.

Mrs. Carrie Bedore was returned from a visit with her son, Oscar Bedore, in Yonkers, and at present is visiting her niece, Mrs. Howard Baker.

BABSON on BUSINESS

TORNADOES

Babson Park, Fla., Jan. 21.—At Warren, Arkansas, a few days ago occurred a tornado which is reported to have killed 59 persons and injured about 250 more. Every few months some such disaster occurs in the U. S. Most of them are in the southern center of the country; but every one of the 48 states has, at some time, one of these tornadoes. Therefore, this is the subject in which everyone should be interested.

Before discussing tornadoes, let me say a word about hurricanes. These originate on the ocean and can be prevented by "killing" them at their birth. For instance, the hurricanes which hit the South Atlantic States and Florida, and the Gulf States, start 2,000 miles or more away—mostly east of the Leeward Islands and the Caribbean Sea. When they hit our Southeastern States, these hurricanes may have a diameter of 100 to 500 miles. This diameter varies with each hurricane, but can easily be measured in each case. We have been hit by about 150 major hurricanes since 1930. These have done tremendous damage.

If our Navy would patrol the waters, with small airplane carriers, where these hurricanes originate, they could easily be detected. As the aviator would come to a small area where the barometer suddenly drops to 28, he would know that this area is a dangerous spot worth watching. It then might not be more than 2,000 to 5,000 feet or less than a mile in diameter at its birth. Authorities differ as to how they would kill it; but I say that it can be killed. They are most common in the fall months.

How Tornadoes Can Be Killed

Tornadoes originate on the land, due to a "dead warm spot" of very low pressure, overlaid by a cold high pressure heavy area, held down by gravity. Tornadoes come with less warning and at all times of the year. Often they have a diameter of only a few miles, and the core (which does the damage) may be only a fraction of a mile. Furthermore, they last for a much shorter time than do hurricanes. As tornadoes are more frequent than hurricanes, the nation's total annual loss from tornadoes can equal or exceed the total annual loss from hurricanes.

Scientists now see no way of preventing tornadoes because it takes them such a short time to develop nearby. Tornadoes appear to be born mature and do their damage almost at once. I, however, do believe that all loss of life from tornadoes can be prevented. The people in the tornado area can be notified in time with proper warnings. In other words, every community in the Southern Middle West should be protected with a tornado siren-alarm system. This cannot prevent the tornado or its accompanying property damage; but it can absolutely prevent loss of life. There is no excuse for the deaths and injury of so many people at Warren. The entire state of Arkansas could have been properly safeguarded against loss of life from tornadoes.

How to Detect Tornadoes

Every tornado has three features: (1) A very low barometer reading within a hot stagnant area, (2) a gradually increasing wind from five miles upwards to 300 to 500 miles per hour, (3) a dark colored column of rain, dirt, and other material. The fire or police station in every southwestern community should always be on the watch for these three signals. Upon seeing them, they should, by radio, immediately notify all surrounding territories. As each community gets the word, it should ring in a Gamewell siren alarm, which would give the proper warning to the inhabitants either to enter a cyclone cellar or to go out into the open and lie down. After the cloud has passed down an all-out signal should be given. Perhaps the tornado will have done much property damage, but in no case need any persons be killed or hurt.

We live in a wonderful country. It is rich in resources and opportunities. In this country, however, we are far too careless of human life. This applies to every community and in every department of life from needless auto accidents to needless fire losses.

Sutton Will Serve In Palestine Area

Philadelphia, Jan. 21.—Marshall Sutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Sutton, Clintonville, left today for Palestine where he will work with the American Friends Service Committee.

The committee has accepted the invitation of the United Nations to participate in its Palestine refugee program in the southern and southwestern section of Palestine adjacent to the Egyptian border, where there are approximately 200,000 destitute Arabs. Plans are under way for medical service and the distribution of food and clothing. Approximately 20 people have been flown to the southwest area to participate in this work. A small relief program sponsored by the committee, with a staff of five, is also maintained in Israel.

Mr. Sutton received his B.A. degree from Colgate University. He took additional courses at Columbia University and Earlham College. He took part in the seminary experiment at the University of Minnesota. He was a member of the faculty of Oakwood School, Poughkeepsie, and immediately prior to his departure was executive secretary of the American Young Friends Fellowship.

Mrs. Sutton will reside in Philadelphia while Mr. Sutton is in Palestine.

In addition to its program in Palestine, the American Friends Service Committee carries on relief and rehabilitation work in Austria, China, Finland, France, Germany, Hungary, India, Israel, Italy, Japan, Pakistan, Poland, and Spain.

More Bitter Cold Hits Parts of United States

(By The Associated Press)

The northern plains and Rocky Mountain states got some more bitter cold weather today.

The lowest temperatures were in the Dakotas and Montana—readings ranging from 30 to nearly 40 below zero. The mercury also plunged far below zero in Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho and parts of Kansas and Minnesota.

There was a fresh mass of cold air in the northeastern section of the country and temperatures were below zero in northern Maine. The central states warmed up a little from yesterday's below zero readings.

Snow fell today in the Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys, the northern Great Lakes and the Pacific northwest. There were scattered showers in the Gulf states.

Heart Disease Biggest Killer Among Doctors

Chicago, Jan. 21 (AP)—The biggest killer among physicians—and the general public—is heart disease.

A journal of the American Medical Association reported today that heart conditions accounted for 41 per cent of the 3,230 doctor deaths in 1948.

Diseases of the nervous system were second, causing 412 doctor deaths; cancer and other malignant tumors were third, accounting for 348 deaths, and accidents were fourth, with 173 deaths. The journal said doctors are livwould be the building of new thoroughfares parallel to Broadway to give access to properties which would be above grade.

Five Persons Killed

Within the last 35 years five persons have been killed at the crossing. Three members of the Kingston Fire Department suffered fatal injuries while returning to the Central Fire Station for more hose during an early morning fire. Two other persons were killed when a morning train and a trolley car collided.

As a traffic problem, the crossing outranks all others, for it divides the city and annually costs motorists tremendously from the standpoint of time lost. During summer months when tourists and mountain-bound vacationists are on the highways, local congestion is almost constant.

Elimination of the crossing also will be a boon to Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy. At present the passing of freight trains is one of his principal concerns, since such an obstruction could prevent the arrival of central equipment at an uptown conflagration.

Barge Sails Alone After Lines Break

An old canal barge which had been moored off Sleightsburg for many years took a trip on its own today.

It was a short trip, however, and after it nosed into shore near the ferry station at Rhinecliff, the U. S. Coast Guard was notified.

The coast guard tug, "Navesink," came up from Pier 9 yesterday and made its moorings more secure until it can be removed.

The barge, it is believed, broke loose early Wednesday morning from where it had been among other derelicts below Sleightsburg. It was tied up pending the arrival of the coast guard tug, by a watchman at the New York Central railroad station on the other side of the river.

Ownership of the barge has not been established, a coast guard spokesman said.

TRY MAKING VEGETABLES FESTIVE

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

Put a Sunday flourish on your inexpensive winter vegetables. Everyone will be thankful. Particularly if you keep right on every other day in the week.

Turnips and Tomatoes

(Serves 4 to 6)

Wash and pare turnips; parboil in boiling salted water to cover till the turnips are just barely tender. Drain, cut in quarters or cubes. Season with a little salt, pepper and butter. Add 1/2 cup of cubed turnips for each serving.

Place 2 cups cubed parboiled turnips in a greased baking dish; season with salt, pepper and a few grains of nutmeg. Pour over the turnips 1 1/2 cups stewed or canned tomatoes. Sprinkle the top thickly with buttered crumbs and a light dusting of paprika. Brown in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. 25 minutes.

Red Cabbage European Style

(4 to 6 servings)

One medium head red cabbage, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg, 1 tablespoon caraway seeds, 4 to 6 hot boiled potatoes.

Sunday's Menu

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, Spanish omelet, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Roast loin of pork, sauerkraut, applesauce, mashed potatoes, turnips and tomatoes, rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, lemon chiffon pie, coffee, milk.

Supper: Sliced bologna, potato cakes, spiced beefs and onions, enriched rolls, butter or fortified margarine, nut loaf cake with maple icing, tea, milk.

Wash the cabbage, cut in shreds, let stand in cold water. Drain, place in an enamel or agate saucepan in which the butter is melted. Add the vinegar, sugar and seasonings. Cover the pan closely and cook slowly 30 minutes, or till the cabbage is tender and steaming. Serve on a warmed platter surrounded by hot boiled potatoes.

Baked Small Squash

Wash squash, cut in half, remove seeds and fibers. Allow 1/2 squash for each serving. Arrange in a greased baking pan; in each half add 1/2 teaspoon salt mixed with 1/4 teaspoon pepper, a few grains paprika, and 1/4 teaspoon powdered cinnamon. Add a dab of margarine, butter or sour cream and fill up with finely minced onion. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. 30 to 50 minutes or longer, depending on size of squash; add a tablespoon of water to the pan if the squash seems to be burning on the bottom.

Drugless Health!

NO MATTER how long you have been suffering from stomach, kidney and rheumatic distress, and what drugs you have tried before, you can now find relief if you take GEO-MINERAL. With your eyes SEE the results seven days after you start taking it.

DRUGGISTS, Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth—Nature's laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

Wonder Minerals
FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Mineral Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thionville in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bled to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results
WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it. Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize its priceless value.

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, full, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite when your eyes lack that bright sparkle, and when your head aches, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry weighing you down—IT may be simply lack of minerals!

Read What They Say!

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store!" reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the drug-store shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds."

your blood: GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

Kingston High Seeks 43rd Straight and First Half DUSO Pennant

Middletown High Is Opponent At the Auditorium

DUSO League
Kingston	5	0 1,000
Monticello	3	1 750
Port Jervis	3	2 600
Newburgh	3	2 500
Middletown	1	3 250
Fallsburg	1	3 250
Liberty	0	3 000

Tonight's Schedule
Middletown at Kingston
Fallsburg at Monticello
Liberty at Newburgh

It is within the realm of possibility that Kingston High will have won its 43rd straight game and clinched the first half pennant in the DUSO Basketball League by midnight tonight.

Returning to the wars after their brilliant 48-40 conquest of Newburgh (and it was a terrific job notwithstanding Bo Gill's attempt to minimize its significance) the all-conquering Kiamen entertain the Middletown Middies tonight at the municipal auditorium.

Should Middletown upset Kingston, possible but highly improbable, while Monticello wins the remaining two games on its schedule, the first half would end in a tie between the Maroon and Monties at 5-1 and necessitate a single game playoff.

In other DUSO games, Fallsburg travels to Monticello and Liberty High rides into the Newburgh bullwink to see if the Academicians can rebound from the crushing defeat of Tuesday.

Monties Favored
If Fallsburg can upset the applecart in Monticello while Kingston beats Middletown, the Maroon wins the first half crown outright.

On paper Monticello figures to beat Fallsburg, especially with the natural advantage of the home boards. The Monties haven't been seriously challenged since the opening night defeat by Kingston.

According to advices from Middletown, Coach Wagner's Middies, beaten three times in four starts, will attempt to solve Kingston's zone defense with outside shooting to the varsity. Stan Miller, who enjoyed some success against Port's zone Tuesday may be a sturter.

Otherwise it will be the regular five of Glenn Cook and Bill Lakin, forwards; Walt Adams, center; and Hank Klingberg and Dick Brown, guards.

Against this array Coach Kias will thrust Ronnie Scheffel, Lafayette Holstein, Keesie Chambers, Mike Rienzo and Mort Gazlay. This is the same lineup that caused all that grief in Newburgh Tuesday night.

Landgraf's Dream
Lebanon, Pa., Jan. 21 (AP)—North Atlantic Baseball League will be an all-Pennsylvania circuit this year.

Lebanon was admitted to the Class D loop yesterday, replacing Pottsville, N. Y. Other clubs in the league are, Hazleton, Berwick, Mahanoy City, Carbondale, Nazareth, Bangor and Stroudsburg.

Making Plans for Pro Wrestling Here

Bill Johnston, seated center, who Wednesday morning announced the return of professional wrestling to Madison Square Garden on Feb. 22 was in Kingston the same night making preliminary plans for a series of wrestling shows to be staged at the municipal auditorium. Date of the first card will be announced in a few days. Johnston controls 18 arenas in the metropolitan area and New Jersey and features such standouts as Gorgeous George, the Swedish Angel, Primo, Carnara, Tony Galento and a flock of other headliners. Attending the meeting at City Hall when Johnston negotiated with the Common Council's Building and Supplies Committee for rental of the auditorium were seated, I to r, Charles J. ## St. Mary's Nose Out Redeemers, 51-52; A.Z.A. Quintet Romps Over Old Hurley

Dunham and Hudler Are Top Scorers

St. Mary's Seniors overcame a four-point, halftime deficit to squeak out a 54-52 victory over the Redeemers, while A.Z.A. romped over Old Hurley, 61-33, in a Church League doubleheader at the MIM gym.

Ward Dunham made a gallant bid to keep Redeemers ahead with 23 points but the all-around play of St. Mary's prevailed in the best game of the season. Schrader and Cherney shared 27 points for St. Mary's, with Moxham and Kozlowski tossing 11 and 10 respectively. Hooker netted 12 for Redeemer.

Hudler Sinks 20
Hudler's 20 points sparked the AZA's easy victory over Hurley. Keating and Klein assisted with 24. The winners were ahead 33-15, at halftime. Everett Landers was high man for Old Hurley with 12.

Miami, Fla.—Dubious ($10.20) won the featured seven-furlong Appalchicola purse at Hialeah in 1:24 4/5.

Arcadia, Calif.—War Bam $5.40, 10 years old, captured the six-furlong feature at Santa Anita in 1:14 1/5 over a muddy track.

New Orleans—Gams ($14.20) took the six furlong Grey Count purse at the Fair Grounds.

Football
Los Angeles—U.C.L.A. hired Henry (Red) Sanders of Vanderbilt as head football coach.

Tempe, Ariz.—University of Arizona removed Mike Casteel as football coach and his players said he got a "raw deal."

Chicago—National Football League gave Commissioner Bert Bell a new 10-year contract. All-America Conference reportedly met again with National League representative, but nothing announced. A.A.C. postponed a "showdown" meeting until today.

Orono, Me.—University of Maine Athletic Board took no action on request by undergraduate "M" Club for removal of Coach George "Eck" Allen.

Baseball
Glendale, Calif.—Ewell Blackwell, ace pitcher of Cincinnati Reds, had kidney removed in emergency operation. Doctor said he came through fine and probably could report for spring training in about six weeks.

New York—Phil Rizzuto became first New York Yankee regular to sign his 1949 contract.

Detroit—Tigers bought Don Lund from St. Louis Browns and Virgil Trucks and Stubby Overmire signed 1949 contracts.

Philadelphia—Catcher Earl Bruckner Jr. and outfielder Zeb Eaton returned signed contracts to Athletics.

Cleveland—Pitcher Earl Wynn, newly acquired from Washington, signed up with Indians for 1949.

Golf
Tampa, Fla.—Louise Suggs, Marjorie Lindsay and Peggy Kirk were tied with 74s after first round of Tampa Women's Golf Tournament.

Long Beach, Calif.—Four unknowns shared first round lead in $10,000 Long Beach Open with name players on sidelines until today. Tied at 70 were Paul O'Leary, Bismarck, N. D.; Andy Cusick, North Little Rock, Ark.; Max Evans, Udon, Mich.; and Bob Tucker, Long Beach.

Tennis
St. Augustine, Fla.—Seeded players advanced to semifinals of National Professional Clay Courts Tennis Tournament. In the round of four are Frankie Kovacs, Calif.; Francisco Segura, Ecuador; John Nogrady, New York; and Weiby Van Horn, Philadelphia.

Stillwater, Okla.—Oklahoma A. & M. handed St. Louis University its first loss in 17 games in two years, 29-27, in an overtime period.

Hanover, N. H.—Pennsylvania upset Dartmouth, 76-73, in double overtime game.

Y Volleyballers Beat 7th Ward in Romp

The Y.M.C.A. Business Men's volleyball squad won six straight games from the 7th Ward team captained by Frank Sass last night at the Y courts.

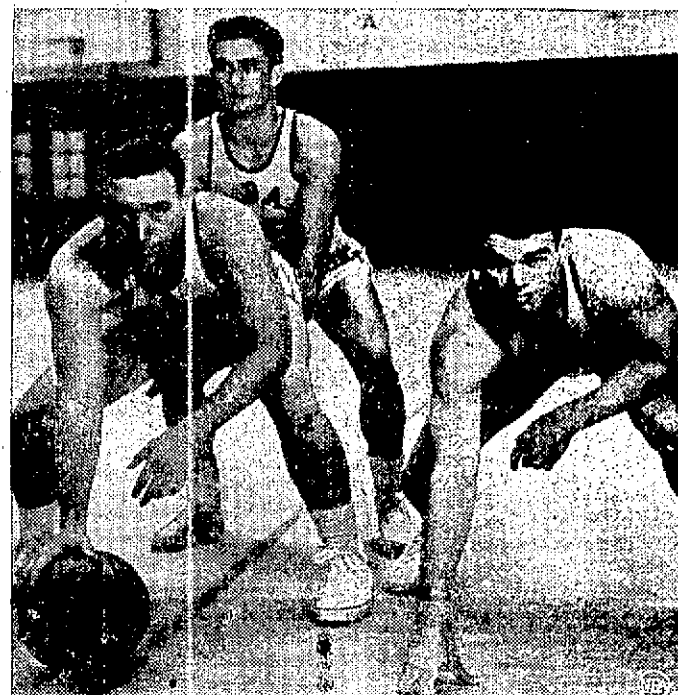

According to Lou Schafer, the Y veterans played raggedly in spots enabling the Warders to pick up an extra point here and there.

But, says Mr. Schafer, "when the going got rough it was Jim Volker, 'Nature Boy' Coughlin or Chet Dolson that really spiked the ball hard."

The match served as a tuneup for Kingston's visit to Newburgh on January 27. Newburgh won three out of five in an earlier meeting.

Fall River, Mass.—Timothy "Buddy" Hayes, 127 1/2, Boston, knocked out Alfred Pescatore, 132, Naples, Italy, 1.

Fitzgerald's 36 Sets Y Record

G. Fitzgerald of the Governor Clinton set a seasonal record of 36 points as the Clintons crushed the Comets, 60-20, in a single game in the Y Basketball League last night on the Y court.

The speedy Clinton forward scored every point from scrimmage, hitting eighteen times on a variety of shots. After building up a 20-7 halftime margin, the colored basketweavers rolled up 40 points in the second half.

Charlie Marable scored 12 points for the winners. Hoffman's six led the Comets.

Salvation Army Nips Woodstock by 34-33

The Kingston Salvation Army Juniors maintained a slim one point lead at halftime to register a 34 to 33 squeaker victory over the Woodstock Jayvees Tuesday night at Woodstock.

The Salvation Army cagers had a 21-20 lead at the half way mark.

R. Dunham was high for the winners with 11 points. Waterous dropped in 11 for Woodstock with Brinkman accounting for 10.

The scores:
Salvation Army Juniors (34)—Telepas, f, 6; DuBois, f, 8; Faurte, c, 7; Landers, g, 2; Dunham, g, 11; Lee, g, 0; Nelson, g, 0.

Jersey City, Jan. 21 (AP)—Night harness horse racing, says the "Grandpappy" of the Hambletonian, is the fastest growing sport in the country and a money-maker far exceeding the fondest dream of the shrewdest promoter.

William H. Cane, who is to the Hambletonian what Col. Matt J. Winn is to the Kentucky Derby, should know what he's talking about.

But Cane had to be convinced. After operating harness meetings for 20 years in broad daylight at his Good Time Park at Goshen, N. Y., he took a flyer at racing under the lights of Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, N. Y., last fall.

Night Gates Terrific
"From a crowd-pleaser, and a business standpoint, there's no comparison," the veteran sportsman and retired builder declared.

"Why, I'd just as soon have Roosevelt Raceway out on Long Island as the mint, because it saves you the cost of printing the stuff. Everything that comes in is cash, and everybody gets a good show."

Any night harness track will go over, said Cane.

Roosevelt shattered all mutual and attendance records for the sultry sports in 1948. With a 145-night season, 1,983,764 fans were and $88,491,899 at the Raceway.

Cane got 18 days for his Goshen association last October and November, used only 16 due to rain. His meeting handled $7,820,573, for an average of $488,785, and attendance was 152,220, an average of 9,513 per night in late fall.

Boost Over Goshen
At Goshen, sleepy Orange county village 60 miles up the Hudson from New York, Cane operated Good Time track three days in 1948, one of them the Hambletonian day. The attendance was 23,037, mutual handle $428,230, and about 20,000 persons and most of the money bet was on the day of the Hambletonian, now one of the major sports events each year.

This year Cane gets six days at Goshen, where the 24th Hambletonian stake will be held August 10, and 42 days at Roosevelt Raceway.

But the Hambletonian still never be moved from Goshen as long as Bill Cane has anything to say—it would be just like trying to run the Kentucky Derby in San Francisco. He has a contract, renewed every five years, with the Hambletonian Society to hold the classic at Goshen.

Clinton Avenue Aces Defeat Royals by 35-17

The Clinton Avenue Aces scored a 35 to 17 victory over the Stone Ridge Royals this week at the Grange Hall in Stone Ridge. The winners held a 15 to 8 lead at the half way mark.

Jerry Wells was high scorer for the winners with 10 points. Randall and Sangeline of the Aces accounted for nine points apiece.

J. Linnartz paced the losers with nine markers.

The scores:
Clinton Avenue Aces (35)—Wells, f, 10; Moser, f, 6; Randall, c, 9; Sangeline, g, 9; Smith, g, 1. Stone Ridge Royals (17)—Linnartz, f, 9; Spongia, f, 0; Aspromonte, c, 4; Osterhoudt, g, 0; Bishop, g, 0; North, g, 0; Roosa, g, 0; Lawrence, g, 4; Arra, g, 0.

Would Stiffen Penalty on Foul

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 21 (AP)—A national basketball authority suggested today the penalty for a foul be made more severe—that its scoring value to the aggrieved team be doubled one to two points.

Howard Hobson of Yale is sure the effect will tend to decrease the number of fouls committed by the players and called by the officials.

Hobson, past president of the National College Basketball Coaches Association, insists "the player will think about it—and so will the official before he blows his whistle, if the conversion counts two points."

What the slim, gray-haired Hobson stresses is the way the game is being played today, the price for fouling is cheap, most of the time. He admits he's frankly worried about it.

The way it is, says Hobson, the percentage is with the team that fouls. A serious student, he has piles of statistics to prove his contention.

Hobson would make the penalty fit the crime, and by raising the value of the charity toss, he would assume the officials would use what amounts to a slower foot.

Only Notre Dame For Me—Leahy

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 21 (AP)—Frank Leahy, athletic director and head football coach at Notre Dame, said last night, "I hope sincerely I can stay at Notre Dame for a long period of time."

"If I could not coach at Notre Dame," Leahy said, "I would not want to coach any place else."

There have been numerous unconfirmed reports that Leahy had been offered coaching jobs in both the collegiate and professional ranks, however, he has never indicated he wants to leave Notre Dame.

Leahy, one of the speakers at the annual Irish team banquet given by the St. Joseph Valley Club of Notre Dame, is slated to drop his duties as athletic director and devote his full time to coaching. Ed (Moose) Krause, assistant athletic director, and an assistant grid coach, is to succeed him as athletic director.

Newark, N. J.—Tommy Yarusz, 180, Monaca, Pa., outpointed Roy Sneed, 170, New York, 8.

Bowling

Town Cafe knocked off Progress Clothes, 2-1, in a Major League "crucial" that was comparatively tame in the light of pre-match buildup last night in the Major League at the Central Recs.

A slight rhabarb marred the first game when the respective sides failed to agree on whether or not a pinboy touched an errant ball that meant a strike and double for Progress. The tailors won the first set 839-926.

Anchor Broskie of Town Cafe wheeled by a 10th frame spare in protest against poor visibility on the part of the tailors. Link Fisher's crew made a rapid recovery, however, while Progress went into the old "four men and bowler" routine.

Ferraro Blasts 649 In between verbal volleys with assorted characters on the Town Cafe squad, Johnny Ferraro, the bowler, knocked off high triple of 649 with 191-213-245.

John MacLellan, jurisprudence expert of the Cafe, smote 230 and 229 after a 161 opener for 620. Clifton Quick shot 208-554; "Tarz" Spada 223-591; and Harold Breskie 160-200-243-605.

Other scores of note were Norm Niles 203-539; Tommy Amato 574; Fred Rice 202-590; "Pop" Van Alstyne 234-577; Charlie Grunwald 182-229-220-631; Mike Provenzano 224-218-191-633; Joe Man-nello 200-571; Larry Petersen, Jr. 222-577; Tony La Roca 201-209-604; John Sangi 219-205-593; Phil Masters 572; Bob Hamlin 201-559; Barry Smith 220-204-424; "Hod" Spaulding 205-201-576.

Paul Stevenson, wartime ace of the Electro League, took over individual honors in the Colonial Men's League at the Bowldrome with a 543 blast last night.

Stevenson stacked games of 159-214-170 to beat Ray Amell of Amell's Cedar Bar by 19 pins; Amell shot 184-197-143.

Bob Tierney shot 219-514, Billy Ball 480, Don Beany 481 and Art Parks 209-520 for Morgan's Rest. Erv Wilpan had 489 for Stairs; Eds 493; Earl Terwilliger 513; Bart Burr 494; L. Van Bramer 479.

Sleight Leads Reds Herbie Sleight paced another session on the Y drives Wednesday night with his 556 triple for the Comforter No. 2 squad of the Federation Church League. Sleight unloaded a 211 single in the middle game after hitting 164. He finished up with a 181 solo.

Members of the "500" club were numerous for a change on the Broadway lanes. Had De-Graff took over the runnerup slot to Sleight with 183-540 while C. Kelder was a pin behind with 191-539.

Others in the top bracket were Bill Hornbeck 193-534; Don Weeks 187-522; Ted Young 184-521; Frank Roe 193-518; and T. Slicker 202-516.

Agent 'Horns in' So Boy Is Disappointed

Baltimore, Jan. 21 (AP)—Baltimore police admitted today they were "Indian givers."

It all started last September when Henry W. Lorenz, 15-year-old telegraph messenger, found a French horn in the weeds of an unkempt lot.

He took it to police headquarters. The desk sergeant told him the horn was his if no one claimed it after 90 days.

Twice a week Henry stopped by.

"My horn still here?" "Yep."

Henry soon became as well known around the station as a policeman's badge. Patrolman Herman K. Wilcox of the police band promised to teach Henry to play the horn—if no one claimed it.

The ninety days passed. No claimers. Henry, by his own admission, was the "happiest kid in Baltimore." He joined the police band as its mascot.

The word got around about Henry's good fortune. He appeared on television.

Among those who saw the lad on video was an insurance agent. He thought he recognized the horn as one described as lost by a client. He checked—and it was. A long-faced officer dropped by Henry's house, broke the news and picked up the horn. Henry isn't the happiest kid in Baltimore today.

JANUARY 24

Khartoum, Sudan, Jan. 21 (AP)—Algernon, believed to be the second baby white rhinoceros in captivity, has been flown here from Wau where he was found abandoned in the jungle, weighing 150 pounds and worth $20,000. Algernon is being fed on milk and given tender care until he is old enough for sale.

The closing session will feature discussions on small fruits, cold storage operations and peach problems.

On December 31 a 3 per cent dividend and an extra dividend of 1 per cent was paid to stockholders.

General Alarm Fire

Wilmington, N. C., Jan. 21 (AP) — A four-hour general alarm fire raged through the Orton Hotel early today, routed 40 guests and spread to six adjoining buildings with a loss estimated at about $1,000,000. The fire, which firemen described as one of the worst in the history of this Atlantic seaboard town, started in a women's shoe store adjacent to the five-story, 100-room hotel and soon engulfed the entire structure. Police said no one was injured.

New York Bar

line the hierarchy of state government.
Senator Harold I. Panken and Assemblyman James T. McNamara, both of Manhattan, introduced companion bills to establish a reform group modeled after one headed by former President Herbert Hoover in Washington.
The current drive for relaxation of the state divorce law, which recognizes adultery as the only grounds for divorce, stems from New York District Attorney Frank S. Hogan's probe into an alleged divorce mill dealing in perjured testimony. Several persons were arrested and a Manhattan grand jury started an investigation.
Ten Eyck said yesterday that "after Hogan's little expose, it is obvious that something should be done about the law."
The Bar Association's proposed bill, Ten Eyck said, would provide that, in addition to adultery, the following could be used as grounds for a divorce action:
Extreme cruelty and inhuman treatment, willful conduct so as to render it unsafe and improper for the defendant to cohabit with the plaintiff, abandonment, neglect or refusal of the husband to provide for his wife, conviction of a felony and actual imprisonment for two years and habitual drunkenness.
Several organizations, principally from the metropolitan area, have come out in favor of divorce reform. Such measures have been opposed in former years by the Catholic Church and many legislators.
Senator Austin has announced he will re-introduce a bill to create a state commission to study the divorce law and recommend reforms. His measure last year died in committee.
The milk commission bill was sponsored by Republican Senator Austin W. Erwin, the group's chairman. It was backed by Democrats after Erwin promised a "complete report" next month on the commission's controversial inquiry into milk prices.
The $100,000,000 fund to help municipalities modernize slum areas was "intended to be the initial step in a redevelopment project and in the meantime would provide recreational and community facilities," Austin said.

His bill provides that the state housing commissioner would administer the fund. Fifty-year loans would be made to communities for rehabilitation projects.
"Repayment would be guaranteed," Austin said, because the state comptroller would be authorized to deduct the community's payments from its regular state aid funds.
If approved by the Legislature, the proposal would be submitted to the people next November for approval.
More people now are working on U. S. farms than at any time since 1940.
